

Worthy Is The Lamb

Quick Links to Praise & Worship Songs

“...and they cried out in a loud voice:
‘Worthy is the Lamb
that was slain to receive power and wealth, wisdom and strength, honor and glory and praise!’ “ Rev 5:12

The following songs are divided into
Fast-Praise, Medium-Praise, Slow Worship

For quick reference, you may want to save to your desktop (Windows) or other convenient location.

Songs are in alphabetical order and contain in most cases a Live version and a Lyric version. Bracketed information designates the performing artist(s), not necessarily the composers.

The Live version can be inspirational, as we see the faith of the participants evident when they sing and play.

The Lyric version is helpful for singing along.

If a song link is no longer available, please let me know here: worthylambmr@gmail.com. I will adjust the next edition.

Disclaimer:

All music links chosen are for inspirational/educational purposes. While no Christian theological error was noticed, we leave it to the user to ensure each song chosen is satisfactory for their purposes.

Praise & Worship

Using This Resource

Praise and worship of God is happening continuously in heaven. When we decide to praise and worship Him, we are simply joining in with all of heaven, under the influence of the Holy Spirit, to honour and praise God and worship Jesus who was slain for our sins.

Begin by recalling the goodness of God in your life and expressing thanks to Him. Thanksgiving opens our heart to Him and prepares our soul to being able to praise Him. Choose one or more songs from the Fast Praise selections. After each song feel free to express out loud how wonderful God is.

Choose a medium-praise song and follow by expressing aloud your heartfelt words of love and praise. When your heart feels softened enough to receive God's love, move on to worship songs.

Worship happens when God, by His Holy Spirit, draws us into the depths of His love. Choose one or two songs. Gentle worship music helps us to worship Jesus and to surrender ourselves to His love, like a bride surrendering herself to her beloved. This intimate experience creates a bond of love between us and God.

What follows is the quiet of intimacy and peace. Stay in this quiet after the music ends, because this is when our hearts are more open to hearing God. He often speaks through an experience of peace or interior images we receive or scriptures that come to mind or simply a message we might sense. God also releases healing, so staying in the quiet presence of God is an opportunity to rest in His love and to allow Him to express His healing and His care for you. Write down what you have received and keep track of how God has spoken as a reminder of His love for you. Thus we can have a small experience of heaven even right now on earth. •

For those who are comfortable, the gift of tongues can be a wonderful way to enhance one's praise & worship of God.

How To Use Music For Personal Prayer Times

At the start of your personal prayer time, couple prayer, or family/group prayer time, try using music to enhance your prayer.

Songs of thankfulness, praise, honour or worship move our hearts powerfully towards God and prepare us to encounter His abiding presence.

Similarly in a bible study, faith sharing or similar group, consider playing one or more songs of faith at the beginning and end of your meeting. Listening at the start helps center everyone on the presence of Jesus. At the end, music can express our sentiments and faith in a powerful way.

*O come, let us worship and bow down, let us kneel before the LORD, our Maker!
For he is our God, and we are the people of his pasture, and the sheep of his hand..*

Psalm 95:6-7
